Patina Osaka Reimagines Hanami at Osaka Castle Park

Patina Osaka Offers Complimentary Upcycled Paper Picnic Rugs for Sakura Season

Osaka, Japan, 10 March 2026 —There is a particular quality of light that arrives only in spring—soft, fleeting, and full of longing. This sakura season, Patina Osaka honours that feeling with an invitation: to slow down, sit beneath the blossoms, and experience hanami in its most unhurried form. For a hotel built on the belief that luxury and responsibility are inseparable, the partnership with Sanyo Paper Co., Ltd.—pioneers of sustainable paper craft—feels like a natural one. As a gift to the season and the city, 200 complimentary upcycled picnic rugs will be offered to guests at Osaka Castle Park.

Since opening, Patina Osaka has approached sustainability — from the art on its walls to the sourcing in its kitchen — as simply a way of operating. For a hotel built on the belief that luxury and responsibility are inseparable, the partnership with Sanyo Paper Co., Ltd.—pioneers of sustainable paper craft—feels like a natural one. As a gift to the season and the city, 200 complimentary upcycled picnic rugs will be offered to guests at Osaka Castle Park.

The blue plastic tarp has long been part of hanami's landscape — a symbol of togetherness, of picnics in mornings. This spring, Patina Osaka offers an alternative that honours that same spirit: something that sits more gently on the land, and can be carried home when the petals fall.

By contrast, Sanyo Paper's "Picnic Rug" is an upcycled product made from recycled paper, designed to blend harmoniously with the surrounding greenery. The surface is treated for water resistance, allowing it to be reused after drying even if exposed to rain or spills. Guests can enjoy a comfortable hanami experience while reducing environmental impact.

Each rug is generously proportioned for a small gathering, and the ideal spot awaits just outside the hotel at the south outer moat of Osaka Castle Park, where the sakura bloom in quiet abundance.
