The Listening Room by Devon Turnbull (OJAS), P72's culinary programme inspired by Japan's 72 micro-seasons, and collaborations with artists such as VERDY and COOKIEBOY are brought to life through Perpetual Journey—a year-round platform of experiences designed to connect guests with the creators shaping contemporary culture.

Patina Osaka promotes wellbeing through pioneering health-tech and wellness programmes—the first of their kind in a hotel in Japan—while offering farm-to-table dining experiences that celebrate relationships with local producers, alongside micro-seasonal cuisine inspired by the subtle rhythms of Japan's changing seasons.

The Listening Room by OJAS, created by sound sculptor Devon Turnbull, offers an immersive musical experience that encourages deeper engagement with sound. Through initiatives such as listening sessions with Potato Head Bali, Patina Osaka also creates opportunities for cultural exchange, connection, and discovery.

Patina Osaka will continue to collaborate with renowned creators from Japan and around the world. As part of the celebration of this recognition, guests who book directly through our official website or stay in our suites will receive a limited-edition tote bag designed by VERDY, who has been a creative partner of Patina Osaka since its opening.
